Stop badgering Microsoft. Admit once and for all that Bill Gates and his crew built a better mousetrap. Were it not for them, the common man wouldn't be enjoying the delights of computer ownership.

I'm 78 and worked up from DOS 3.0 to Windows 98, and it didn't cost me an arm and a leg.

My grandchildren were literally weaned on my computers.

Please exercise your authority on prosecuting the ENRON thieves and their cohorts.
